

Wind & Flow DAO: the Korean Way to Harmony
Jun Bum Sun

Problem: #Division

The division of Korea was the division of the modern World. The DMZ is the dividing line between East / West, Communism / Capitalism, Left / Right, etc. The contrast between North and South Korea is the biggest contradiction of our times. One nation, two states. One people polarized into two extremely different cultures. Ham Sok Hon, in his essay 'Only the Thinking People Will Survive(1958)', argued that the fundamental cause of the Korean War(1950-53) was not without, but within. Yes, the US and the Soviet Union, Japan and China were to be blamed, but the seed of division was to be found in the 5000 years of Korean history.

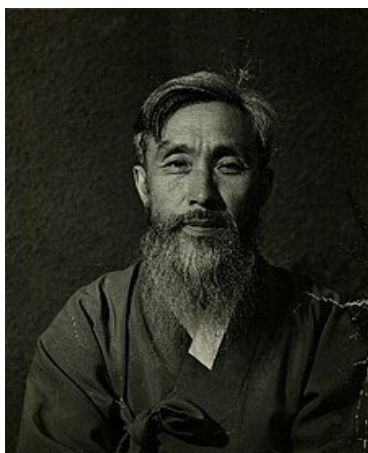

Korea as the "Queen of Suffering": "The historical test of our nation can be said in three phases. First is the spirit of unification, second the spirit of independence, third the spirit of faith. And these three are, in the end, one. I see our history as a history of struggle/suffering."

"Our fundamental flaw is in the lack of great religion ... Some say hwarangdo, but its ethical, philosophical contents were borrowed from others, and the rest ended with hwarangs, and that was it. Hwarangdo will not save history. It is too shallow. Too one-diensional and naive."

Solution: #Unity #Unification #하나님 #하나됨

"Then our historical test comes down to this single point. Give birth to a profound religion. Become a thinking nation. Become a philosophizing people. Then the meaning of the Korean War should be in this too, without a choice. Have a profound religion, a strong faith. And thus be yourself."

화랑도 花郎徒 Hwarangdo = The Dao of Flower Youth
= 풍월도 風月徒 Poongwoldo = The Dao of Wind & Moon
= 풍류도 風流徒 Poonglyudo = The Dao of Wind & Flow

Objective:

To introduce participants to the ancient “Dao of Wind & Flow” and show how the Korean way to harmony can bring peace in the world.

Question #1: What is the “Dao of Wind & Flow”?

Answer to Question #1: The ancient Dao of Wind & Flow is summarized in the writings of Choi Chiwon (a.k.a. High Cloud): “國有 玄妙之道 日風流 ... 包含三教 接化群生 There is a mysterious Dao called Wind & Flow in this nation ... It contains all three religions (Confucianism, Buddhism, Daoism). It is to Love all living things into Evolution.”

Question #2: What is “Pojop 포접 包接” and why is it the “Korean way to Harmony”?

Answer to Question #2: The “The Pojop System 포접제 包接制” was the underground organization system of Donghak Movement in late 19th century. “Pojop” = “포함 包含 + 접화 接化”. To include/embrace and love into co-evolution.
